

Six Boys At Victor Cullen Juvenile Detention Center Give Their Lives To Christ

The number of boys attending the Bible Study at the Victor Cullen Center has been growing. We started a year ago with one boy. Then it grew to three. Now we average between eight to twelve each week. There are twenty-four boys incarcerated in this location.

What you are looking at to the right are prayer cards given to me by inmates and one guard three weeks ago. I have covered their names. These boys requested prayer after I presented the gospel.

Six boys gave me an indication of making a decision for Christ. The following Tuesday, I was there with six Bibles (ERV-Easy Read Version written at the third grade level) along with a 30-day reading plan for new believers. Two boys have asked to be baptized.

I don't know what you support when it comes to missions. But I guarantee you that if these kids have Jesus Christ as their Savior, they are going to be less likely to return to jail as adults. The staff of Victor Cullen told me that in the State of Maryland, the average is 80% of these boys will likely be incarcerated as adults.

When I think of the crimes committed, the victims who are harmed, the brokenness of families, and the loss of wholeness in life, I see sharing Jesus with these young men as critical.

P.S. Would you support me with even a one time gift as I continue to share the only hope for the future?
